

GRIZZLED "UNCLE JOE"
CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

"Cannon For President," On Lips Of Many
As Speaker Of House Is Passing
His Seventieth Milestone.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., May 7.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon, Speaker of the House of Representatives, was the man of the hour in Washington today. It was the seventieth birthday of the grizzled veteran from Illinois and from the time he appeared on the streets on his way to the capitol this morning he was kept busy shaking hands and listening to the congratulatory utterances of his friends and acquaintances. The House chaplain made complimentary mention of the anniversary in his opening prayer and every member on both sides of the chamber took occasion to congratulate the Speaker. Nor were the occupants of the Senate wing behind hand in their felicitations. Contrary to the new rule enforced at the opening of the present congress, the rule promulgated by Speaker Cannon himself forbidding floral decorations, a huge bunch of American beauty roses graced the Speaker's desk when the House was called to order.

"Uncle Joe" for President" was a remark passed around during the day by members of the Illinois delegation and other ardent admirers of Speaker Cannon, but nothing could induce Mr. Cannon to make any serious comment on the new movement to advance him from the Speaker's chair to the White House.

to the White House. About the best that could be elicited from him was a smile and the remark, "Lovely, pleasant, complimentary," as he shifted his cigar from one corner of his mouth to the other and then passed on to the next group waiting their turn to present their congratulations.

Tonight, at the Arlington hotel, Mr. Cannon is to be the guest at a dinner given by the House of Representatives in honor of his seventieth birthday. The affair has been planned on an elaborate scale, and the affair undoubtedly will be one of the biggest of its kind ever given in the national capital. The President, Vice President, the Senate, the cabinet, the United States Supreme Court and public officials generally have been invited to attend.

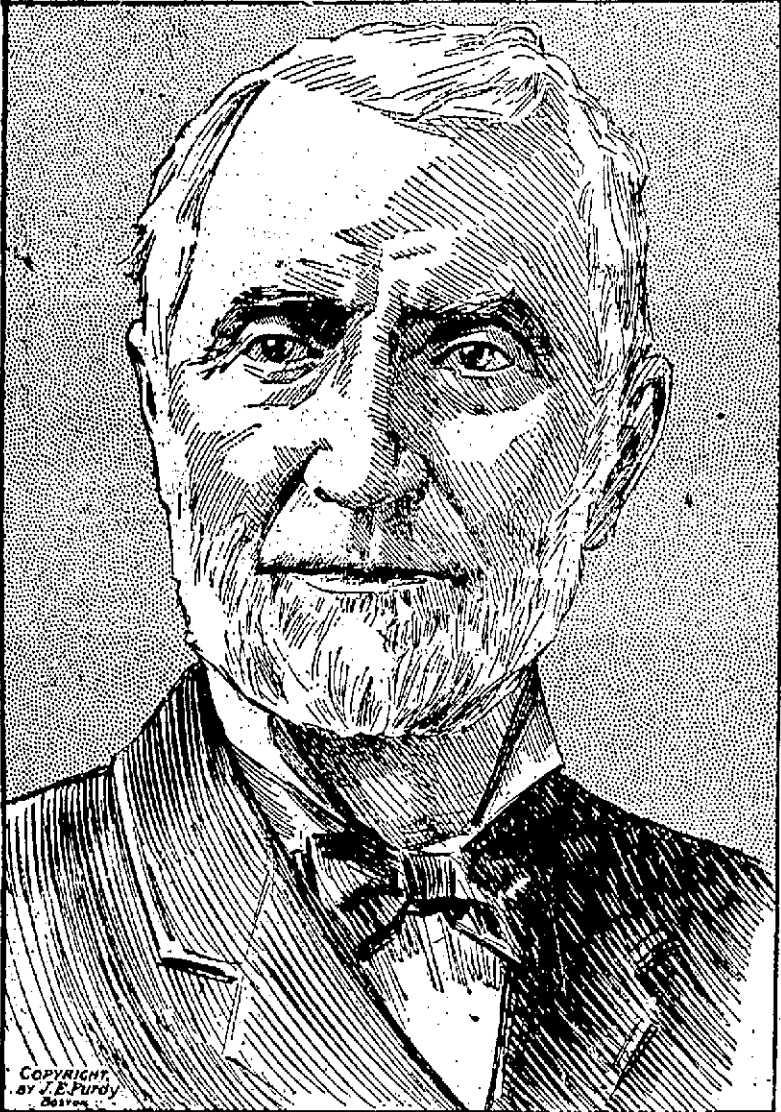

Although he has now reached three score and ten, Mr. Cannon is hale and hearty, and, as the staid old insurgents discovered to their sorrow, he is as full of fight as ever. His most intimate friends and associates in the House declare that "Uncle Joe" has no desire to become president. He himself has been heard to say on frequent occasions that his only ambition is to serve another term as presiding officer of the House.

Joseph G. Cannon, republican, of Danville, Ill., was born at Guilford, N. C., May 7, 1836; is a lawyer; was state's attorney in Illinois, March, 1861, to December, 1863; was elected to the forty-third, forty-fourth, forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-third, fifty-fourth, fifty-fifth, fifty-sixth, fifty-seventh, fifty-eighth, congress and re-elected to the fifty-ninth congress.

This is the sketch of the "father of the House," as it is printed in the Congressional directory for the fifty-ninth congress. It has been changed little in the last thirty years. The only change has been the addition of another congress every two years. Only one congressional directory since 1873 has not had this autobiography. That was the directory of the fifty-second congress.

Mr. Cannon has been elected to congress seven times. That is, several times more than any other member of the present congress. He has been "Uncle Joe" to everybody in Washington for a quarter of a century, and while regarded as the fiercest fighter in the House his friends say that he has done more kindly acts for other members and

TO CEMENT MAKING

Irrigation Projects Have Compelled
United States to Manufacture Product.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., May 7.—The irrigation policy is driving the United States government into the cement-making business. It has been making cement in a quiet way, and seems likely to extend operations in that line. To construct the dams for the 24 irrigation projects under way in the Far West, the government either was compelled to ship cement from Europe or from the far Eastern seaboard, or manufacture its own product. In the Salt River project, in Arizona, a test has been made which is very satisfactory to the government. Hundreds of barrels of cement are being turned out daily, at a cost far below the market price. Many of the government works are remote from railroads, and cement beds are adjacent to them. So thoroughly aroused are the people of the thirteen states and territories to the necessity for completing these projects that they will insist that the government proceed with the manufacture of enough cement to complete the projects.

to Reconsider Plans.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Los Angeles, Cal., May 7.—This was the date originally fixed for the assembling of the National Congress of Mothers in this city, but at the direction of the president, Mrs. Frederic Schooff of Philadelphia, the gathering has been postponed indefinitely owing to the disaster at San Francisco. The national officers are to meet in Minneapolis later in the month to reconsider the plans. Keen disappointment is felt here over the postponement as the Los Angeles club women had gone to much trouble and expense in arranging for the reception and entertainment of the visitors.

Washington, May 7.—General Greeley telegraphed the war department late yesterday that the conditions in San Francisco were steadily becoming much better and that he had approximately cared for a quarter of a million people on Saturday and Sunday each. New methods which are calculated to relieve the great strain are to be placed in operation and the total number in the city will be soon materially reduced. The rations as to flour and potatoes are plentiful, but fresh meat is said to be lacking.

FATAL ACCIDENT WAS NARROWLY AVERTED

Automobile Struck A Stone Wagon
Doing Considerable Damage To Machine.

Late Saturday afternoon an automobile belonging to Roy Hollister of Delavan became unmanageable near the Carnegie library and struck a heavily loaded stone wagon. Mr. Hollister escaped without any injuries but his two companions, W. J. Lawrence and Jack Cantwell, were badly bruised. Three springs of the auto were broken, the seat cracked off and the mudguards and fender badly broken. Mr. Hollister and his friends had been taking a spin down Main street and noticing that the steering gear was not working properly were returning to the Pierson garage for repairs when the accident occurred. Mr. Lawrence was bruised about the side and arm and Mr. Cantwell suffered from two broken ribs.

Another Accident.
J. J. Berger of the Berger Carnival company, which intends showing in Spring Brook in June, also met with a mishap while driving down to Spring Brook to inspect the prospective show grounds. His horse became unmanageable and left the road near Buol's brewery, capsizing the buggy in a ditch and throwing Mr. Berger out. He was not injured but the buggy was badly broken.

Mark Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Windham, Center, Conn., May 7.—Miss Caroline Brown, who is believed to be the oldest Baptist in America, celebrated her one hundred birthday today at the home of her grand niece in this town. Miss Brown was born in Lismore, Conn., May 7, 1806, and there she spent the greater part of her life. She was brought up in the Baptist faith, and as soon as she was old enough became a member of the First Baptist church of Packardville, and for over seventy years remained a member of that church, leaving it to join another when she removed to this place. Miss Brown was one of the original crusaders of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and is the oldest "White Ribboner" in the United States. She is still in very good health, although affected by a slight deafness and failing eyesight, which has come up on her in the past two years. She still takes an active interest in all matters that relate to the Baptist church and the temperance movement.

THE SITUATION

PORTIONS OF IT ARE CONDEMNED

New Building Appears To Be A Necessity Now—Question
Of Its Location Is In Doubt
As Yet.

[AT ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, May 7.—The prospects of Chicago's being forced to erect a new city hall were much more pronounced this morning when Building Commissioner Bartenz ordered that all offices in the northeastern wing of the present structure be immediately abandoned. This portion of the building has been condemned and is unsafe.

Stones Falling.
The stones over both the doorways have become loosened and have threatened to fall on persons passing along or through them and the entire building has apparently settled considerably, the walls showing large cracks and other evidences of being dangerous for occupants.

How To Move.
The council appears to be divided upon the question of whether it would not be best to move the city hall from down town to Garfield park or some other locality. The question will doubtless be brought to an issue at the council meeting this evening when plans will probably be made for temporary repairs on the building pending a decision whether to rebuild in present location or remove building entirely.

Due To County Building.
The present trouble with the city hall is due to the fact the building of the new county building immediately adjacent has weakened the under walls and there is a liability that the entire building might collapse.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Hampton, Va., May 7.—This was Virginia Day on the calendar of the anniversary week exercises at the Hampton Normal and Agricultural Institute and it proved an occasion for a notable gathering of educators and others from this and other states. An official party was present from Richmond and the attendance was further swelled by the presence of Dr. Ogden's party, which stopped over on its way home from the Lexington conference. The principal speakers of the day were Rowell D. Page of Hanover county and Walter H. Page of New York city. There were also a number of interesting papers by students and graduates of the school. This is the thirty-eighth year of the Hampton school and it closes with an enrollment of 1382 negro and Indian students, representing thirty-six states, Canada and the British West Indies, over 500 of the students being from Virginia. Courses are given in the trades, agriculture, business, normal training, and domestic science and art, and the school's graduates are able on leaving school to earn their living wherever they may go. The great majority return to their homes in the south and west and settle on land of their own where they establish homes and help in the elevation of their people. They are in demand as teachers both of academic studies and of the various trades. Many work at their trades, some establishing themselves in shops, of their own, for they leave school with sufficient power of initiative and knowledge of business methods to enable them to start in business with a fair prospect of success.

Probably the most important matter to receive attention is a proposed change in the strike clause, which it is desired to make more elastic. The reports of the several officers show that the past year has been one of gratifying progress for the organization. Nearly forty new local unions have been formed, and a number of new schedules arranged, bringing in over $50,000 a year increase in wages and securing a reduction in hours in every instance.

APPROPRIATION

AGRICULTURAL BILL CONSIDERED IN HOUSE.

EXPERIMENTS WITH PLANTS

Conditions Relating to Sale of Domestic Leaf to Foreign Countries to Be Investigated.

Washington, D. C.—Quite a number of interesting matters affecting the tobacco industry of the United States were discussed in the House of Representatives in connection with the agricultural bill, and some important legislation incorporated in that bill by various members.

The Agricultural Appropriation bill, as agreed to in the House in Committee of the Whole, contains a provision, under the head of the Bureau of Plant Industry, "to investigate fruits, fruit trees, grain, cotton, tobacco, vegetables, grasses, forage, drug, medicinal, poisonous, fiber, and other plants and plant industries, in co-operation with other branches of the department, the state experiment stations and practical farmers." Another provision enables the Secretary of Agriculture to continue the necessary improvements to establish and maintain a general experimental farm and agricultural station on the Arlington Estate, in Virginia, on which experiments in tobacco will no doubt be conducted. The total carried in the bill for the work of the Bureau of Plant Industry is $587,200.

Another item of interest to the tobacco trade, which was agreed to by the House, in Committee of the Whole, reads as follows:

"Soil investigations. To man the tobacco soils of the United States; to investigate the soils and conditions of tobacco growth in Cuba, Sumatra and other tobacco competing countries; to investigate, in co-operation with the Bureau of Plant Industry, the methods of curing, with particular reference to fermentation; to originate, through selection and breeding, improved varieties for the principal tobacco districts of the United States, and to secure, as far as may be, a change in the methods of supplying tobacco to foreign countries." For this work and the work of investigating the relation of soils to climate and organic life, etc., the sum of $180,000 is appropriated.

Representative Mudd, of Maryland, offered the following amendment to that part relating to tobacco investigations:

"To investigate with a view of improving the conditions relating to the supply and sale of domestic tobacco to any foreign country or countries where the business of buying and selling tobacco to any foreign country or countries where the business of buying and selling tobacco is conducted by the government."

Chairman Wadsworth, in charge of the bill, said he had no objection to this amendment being incorporated in the bill, and it was agreed to without discussion, save for a brief explanation by Mr. Mudd, who said:

"If the United States government takes this matter up with the French government it will be productive of some beneficial results. It is not taken up and I can get a line in a tariff bill. If we have a vote on a tariff bill—and I want to say I am in favor of that at no distant day—I shall advocate either the making of some concession to France on her products coming to the United States or the placing of retaliatory dues which will club her into fairer treatment to our tobacco growers. Out of one of these alternatives I hope to get some action which will allow of some competition among her own citizens or cause her to prescribe different prices for tobacco."

"If, for instance, we would lower the dues on French wines, which I should not especially protest against, although if I had the preference I would select some other product that France sends into the United States, or if the persuasive course would not work, if I could get practically a prohibitory duty on some article for which France finds a good market here, I will undertake to say that in a short while we would either force

Paint "Mixed on the Premises"

The best architects always specify: "Pure White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil in original be mixed." There are two reasons for this: first, to make sure no used in the White Lead; and second, that the paint shall be mixed to suit the particular wood and the climatic conditions of the locality.

If architects with scientific knowledge and professional reputation are so careful to make sure that only the best materials shall be used, is it not quite as incumbent on the house owner to do as much for himself, when not employing professional aid?

Painters of reputation never quarrel with these specifications, because they realize the materials called for are necessary to a satisfactory job. If a painter is conscientious, he will of his own accord use nothing but White Lead which is known to be pure. The standard is the government to permit competition and her people to buy our tobacco in the open market or to prescribe a different scale of prices for our product. Such a result would bring a dawn of prosperity the like of which has not been seen for many years to the people of the rural section of my district."

Mr. Mudd wants the bars let down to the products of France in the interest of the tobacco growers of Maryland, and his amendment seeks this. At present France consumes practically all of the Maryland tobacco. The government, however, controls its sale so that last year, while the growers were paid an average of only six cents a pound, the selling price in France was $1.50. Under the provision of Mr. Mudd the Secretary of Agriculture, through the Bureau of Agriculture, will enter upon an investigation having for its object the bettering of those conditions which now enables the French government to fix the prices and prevents competition in the sale of tobacco.

Representative Driscoll, of New York, offered the following amendment, which was agreed to without opposition, as it was agreeable to Chairman Wadsworth and the other members of the Agricultural Committee:

"That $5,000 of the amount hereby appropriated shall be expended in experimental work in raising tobacco in Onondaga county, New York."

In reply to a question by Mr. Lever, of S. C., Chairman Wadsworth stated that the tobacco work in Connecticut "is almost finished and at some other points and they can easily go now to New York state. No experiments have been made in New York state."

Mr. Henry, of Connecticut, interrupted to say that "the work in Connecticut is not completed and is not likely to be in the next ten years." Mr. Wadsworth said that was a different understanding from what he had on the subject as Mr. Whitney had testified that the work in Connecticut was almost completed. Mr. Henry said Prof. Calloway, of the Bureau of Plant Industry "is doing the work." Mr. Wadsworth said that was another appropriation. "One is under the Bureau of Plant Industry and the other is under the Bureau of Soils."

Mr. Lever then offered an amendment adding $5,000 additional to the total sum appropriated for the Bureau of Soils, to cover the amount agreed to by Mr. Driscoll's amendment, and in explanation said he did not think the money appropriated for other sections of the country for tobacco experiments should be transferred to work in New York state. Mr. Wadsworth antagonized this move, saying the committee had raised the appropriation of the Bureau of Soils $10,000 this year over last, and this was sufficient to carry on the work in all sections proposed, including New York state.

Mr. Lever: "We are up against this kind of proposition: Either the increase of $10,000 allowed was needed or it was not needed. If it was not needed it ought not to be put in the bill. If it was needed, then the committee did right in putting it into the bill. If it was needed, then we are taking $5,000 away from it and giving it to the state of New York, and therefore we ought to put $5,000 more to the sum total of this appropriation."

Mr. Wadsworth: "This is not extra work; it is work on the line of the regular work by this Bureau. It is not new work entirely. It is directing the Bureau of Soils to conduct work in one section. That is all."

On a division, Mr. Lever's amendment was agreed to, 27 to 21, there being only a slim attendance in the House at the time.

This completed the tobacco features of the bill. The House will pass the bill this week in about the shape as agreed to in Committee of the Whole. There is a possibility, however, that Mr. Wadsworth will seek to abolish the $5,000 additional appropriation as engineered through the Committee of the Whole by Mr. Lever.

MEN WHO EXPOSE NOT ALL RAKERS
 MUCK OF NATIONAL LIFE MUST BE SHOWN UP.
 SAYS REV. R. C. DENISON
 We Should All Beware of Abusing Bunyan's Phrase Made Use of by Roosevelt.

Rev. R. C. Denison last evening spoke on "Men With Muck Rakes." The subject, the theme of a great speech by President Roosevelt a few weeks ago, which caused a stir throughout the country and is still being talked about, somewhat generally, comes from Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress." The original muck rake was pictured as a man raking in the muck and too busily engaged to look up and behold the golden crown which was just over his head. The President applied this parable to the sensational magazine writers who are so energetically exposing the evils of our political and commercial life that they fail to see the golden crown of a bright future.

Roosevelt is listened to. In opening his sermon Mr. Denison said the President was a preacher of the best human morality and when he spoke he was almost universally listened to. What he says is believed because back of all there is a perfect fearlessness and perfect honesty. Therefore Roosevelt is entirely fearless and honest, not only in what he says but also in what he does. Consequently his great muck rake speech, impelled by a magazine article entitled "The Treason of the Senate," sank deep in the American mind. The writer of this expose purported to show black political conditions in all their glaring nakedness and his effort seemingly belonged to a large and hitherto very popular class of writings. But we must be careful about calling all exposers muck rakers.

Conditions Very Bad. Surely conditions are very bad and in both Ida M. Tarbell's History of the Standard Oil company and the article, "Wealth Versus Commonwealth," are indictments against the great oil trust that never have and cannot be answered. This monopoly is built up on evils. The story of the insurance investigation and the history of the land fraud cases are surely black and the time is ripe for the man who the Bible says should lift up his voice and cry out. An exposé of these evils is necessary and essential to the continuance of this republic. If the men who expose are not sensational and wholly truthful they are not muck rakers. Those who paint all black are the only ones deserving this opprobrious epithet. There is a bright side to everything. Beyond all the horror of the San Francisco disaster is seen the wonderful clarity of the country and the invincible spirit to rebuild.

Builder Versus Critic. There is a crown over the life of each one, but many are too much engaged in muck raking to see that crown. The muck rake is the man who in finding fault has no time to do good. The man who criticizes the building of the Panama canal and cannot see the benefits that will be reaped by no means as good as the laziest negro workman who does his bit of work with the shovel. The man who speaks slightly of the so-called Y. M. C. A. type of young man is worse than that which he finds fault with; he is not trying himself to be better. The man who criticizes and is not trying to replace that which is at fault with something better is the man with the muck rake.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS TO PAY SMALL DAMAGES
 Of Six Cents and Pay Costs of $7.82 for Action Against Mrs. Victoria Potter.

Damages for the defendant in the sum of six cents and costs, amounting to $7.82, taxed against the Royal Neighbors, was the decision rendered late Saturday afternoon by Judge Reeder in the action of Camp 132 of the R. N. A. vs. Mrs. Victoria Potter. There appears to have been some irregularity either in the procedure of depositing Mrs. Potter from the position of corresponding secretary or attempting to compel her to give up the books and papers. At any rate the plaintiffs decided to withdraw their case. Some of the ladies present in the court room thought that the board of lady managers had proceeded in the case without authority and that Mrs. de Haszins and Mrs. Flora Skinner should be taxed with the costs instead of the lodge. The action, however, was brought in the name of the lodge and it will have to pay the damages and costs. The books and papers held in the custody of the justice while the replevin action was pending will be returned to Mrs. Potter.

The sum of $1,400 has been raised at Watertown for the California sufferers, besides two large boxes of clothing which have been sent to San Francisco.

MEN WHO EXPOSE NOT ALL RAKERS
 MUCK OF NATIONAL LIFE MUST BE SHOWN UP.
 SAYS REV. R. C. DENISON
 We Should All Beware of Abusing Bunyan's Phrase Made Use of by Roosevelt.

Rev. R. C. Denison last evening spoke on "Men With Muck Rakes." The subject, the theme of a great speech by President Roosevelt a few weeks ago, which caused a stir throughout the country and is still being talked about, somewhat generally, comes from Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress." The original muck rake was pictured as a man raking in the muck and too busily engaged to look up and behold the golden crown which was just over his head. The President applied this parable to the sensational magazine writers who are so energetically exposing the evils of our political and commercial life that they fail to see the golden crown of a bright future.

Roosevelt is listened to. In opening his sermon Mr. Denison said the President was a preacher of the best human morality and when he spoke he was almost universally listened to. What he says is believed because back of all there is a perfect fearlessness and perfect honesty. Therefore Roosevelt is entirely fearless and honest, not only in what he says but also in what he does. Consequently his great muck rake speech, impelled by a magazine article entitled "The Treason of the Senate," sank deep in the American mind. The writer of this expose purported to show black political conditions in all their glaring nakedness and his effort seemingly belonged to a large and hitherto very popular class of writings. But we must be careful about calling all exposers muck rakers.

...FORTY YEARS AGO...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, May 7, 1866—Warm Again.—The weather has been decidedly warm and springlike today putting one in mind of thin clothes and thunder showers. Speaking of showers, puts us in mind of the fact that there is a gentleman in town—Mr. Thomas Hankenson—who is putting up lightning rods. His rods are the best, we think, that we have ever seen and are put up in the best manner, the connections being complete and durable and the insulation perfect. He has put up considerable work in the city, all of which has given the most unqualified satisfaction. He is stopping at the Myers House.

Within the last two years upwards of $1,000,000 has been paid in New York city alone for the works of foreign and native artists. This, too, while the country was engaged in an exhausting war.

A Britany paper announces an odd inducement to young girls about to marry. Two young men having been drawn for soldiers wish to find two young girls, each possessing 2,500 francs to buy them off. When discharged from the army, these two young men will marry their liberators and offer them a happy home provided they are handsome and have good characters. Ugly male clubs must be at a premium in France.

The trial trip of the Pioneer, the first steam whaler ever built in this country, was made at New London, Conn., on Friday last. The Pioneer was built at the Boston Navy Yard, and her machinery is with all the modern improvements. She is owned by Messrs. Williams & Venners of New London.

New York, May 7.—The Times Special says: The query now is, will the president veto bill admitting Colorado as a State? Some say he will sign the bill, because he has committed himself in favor of admission of that territory in a communication to Congress some weeks ago. The President did not in that message undertake to decide any question involved; in the contrary, he unambiguously declined to take upon himself the responsibility of deciding anything and submitted the whole matter to Congress for its action.

TOBACCO SHRINKAGE CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Decision of Court to Effect That Duty Is Charged According to Importing Weight Being Tested.

Washington, D. C.—Solicitor General Hoyt of the Department of Justice, has filed with the U. S. Supreme Court a petition for a writ of certiorari to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, to review a decree of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, adjudging that the weight of imported tobacco at the time of its withdrawal from the government warehouse for consumption and not its weight when entry is made with the collector, determines the amount of duties payable thereon.

The brief recites that in 1902 G. Falk & Bro., imported, entered and warehoused certain tobacco. When withdrawn in 1904 the collector assessed it according to weight returned at the original entry, against Falk's protest that the weight at withdrawal should govern. The Board of General Appraisers sustained the collector under the provision of the tariff act of 1897, which provides that warehoused goods shall pay duties upon weight when entered.

The Circuit Court held the provision inapplicable because restricted to imported merchandise not entered before the act took effect, but sustained the Board on the ground that Section 2983 of the Revised Statutes, prohibiting abatement of duties for loss by merchandise while warehoused, applied to diminution of weight caused by evaporation. This court held that the above named section was applicable only to "actual reduction in the value or quantity of the merchandise" and inapplicable to loss of weight resulting from evaporation of moisture; and that the duty should have been assessed on the weight at withdrawal.

Continuing, the Solicitor General says: "Because of the serious loss of revenue which will result if the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals is acquiesced in and also because of the conflicting views of the tribunals below as to the law, a review by this court seems especially important. Before the customs administrative act of 1890 became operative, tobacco, when withdrawn from the warehouse, paid duty on its weight at entry. This action of executive officers was not questioned."

The Solicitor General quotes a large number of court decisions, which he says bear out his contentions, and in conclusion states:

"In this case a certain lot of tobacco went into warehouse which weighed less when it came out. What became of the difference? It was lost or it leaked or it was damaged, injured or deteriorated. It certainly disappeared. And if it disappeared, no matter by what means, it must be lost. In Seeverger vs. Wright and Lawther Company, it was held that an allowance should be made at the time of entry for impurities which are not part of the merchandise and the amount of which can be readily ascertained. The merchandise referred to in that case was uncleaned."

Washington, D. C.—In a letter to the collector of internal revenue at Scranton, Pa., Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue Williams, in passing on the legality of cigar manufacturers storing leaf tobacco in their buildings occupied by them, says:

"Where the cellar is included and covered only for the storing of leaf tobacco, it is believed no serious harm could result therefrom, and it may be permitted without making special application to this office for the privilege of outside storage. This will apply only to dwellings or buildings occupied wholly by the cigar manufacturer, or so arranged that the tobacco will not pass through premises controlled by other people. In all cases where the tobacco is to be stored in cellars or in places separated from the building in which the factory is located by public streets or thoroughfares, applications should be made for outside storage to this office. This ruling is made to cover the large number of cases of small manufacturers whose factories are located in their dwellings, and who lack the room and facilities for storing their surplus leaf and keeping it in proper working condition."

ECZEMA SKIN RAW AND FEVERISH-ITCHING INTENSE

Eczeema is a tormenting, stubborn disease caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing redness, inflammation and almost intolerable itching. An inactive state of the system and sluggish condition of the eliminative members leaves the waste and refuse matter of the body to collect and sour instead of passing them off through nature's channels of bodily waste. The blood in its efforts to purge the system of all foreign matter absorbs this acid and throws it off through the pores and glands of the skin. The acid humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire, the straw colored, sticky fluid drying and forming crusts, and the itching is intense. When these pustules are scratched off the skin is left raw and feverish and often a solid sore is formed and kept up by the constant escape of acids from the blood. Local applications of salves, powders, lotions etc. are desirable and should be used because they allay the itching and give the sufferer temporary comfort, but are in no sense curative, because they cannot reach the seat of the trouble, which is in the blood.

S. S. S. goes down into the blood, cleanses the circulation of all acids and humors, builds up the thin, sour blood and by removing every vestige of the cause cures Eczeema permanently. The irritating eruptions disappear, the itching and burning cease, and the acid-fired skin, being fed by a fresh, cooling stream of blood, becomes soft and smooth again. S. S. S. is made of healing, purifying roots, herbs and barks that will not damage any part of the system. Book on skin diseases and any medical advice free.

EVANSVILLE C. E. MEET INTERESTING

Rev. J. W. Laughlin Delivered Closing Address—Other News From "Cut-off City."

[SPECIALLY FOR THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, May 7.—The Christian Endeavor convention which was held in this city, commencing Friday evening and closing Sunday evening, proved interesting and profitable. Each session was well attended and the addresses were fine. The music prepared for the occasion was especially good. The convention closed with a rousing address by Rev. J. W. Laughlin of Janesville.

Sudden Death of Girl.

The little Wilma Broughton, the three-and-one-half-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Broughton, Jr., died Friday evening and the remains were tenderly laid at rest in Maple Hill cemetery Sunday evening. At the services, which were held at the house, Rev. B. A. Ralph delivered a most touching address to the grief-stricken parents and sorrowing relatives. The little girl had been ill with measles and pneumonia set in, taking her precious life away suddenly. The heart-broken relatives have the sympathy of a host of friends.

New Auto in Town.

Harvey Sykes arrived home Saturday evening with a handsome automobile, which he purchased in Chicago. He recently sold his old auto to Oliver Gleason.

Personal Mention.

work perfectly. Chickens hatched in the incubator, to all appearance, were fully as intelligent as chickens hatched in the old way. Moreover, they were hatched in greater numbers, and their early and unnatural environment did not seem to unfit them in the least for the responsibilities of their life struggle when they were turned out of the steam heated nursery to scratch on their own account in the open air.

For a generation or two everything apparently looked well. But nature cannot be trifled with safely. Sooner or later she is bound to revolt against any interference with her established methods. For instance, read the following:

"Bloomington, Ill., May 3.—Hens in Illinois refuse to set. This is the latest cause for worry among poultry fanciers. The complaint is heard from many sections of the state. A single theory has been advanced by an expert. He ascribes the trouble to incubators. He claims that a very large percentage of the eggs now being hatched go through incubators. By this machine process the chickens lose the motherly instinct that comes when the hatching is accomplished in the natural manner. With no real mother of their own, the hens do not possess the motherly instinct to set."

And if the motherly instinct of the hen be impaired to the extent that she no longer feels the natural longing to set, will it not follow, as a matter of course, that she will soon cease to experience the desire to lay? Of what earthly use will our incubators be to us then? Of what value will our scientific knowledge be to us, so far as the hen is concerned? When the motherly instinct of the hen shall be entirely destroyed, our incubators will be useless, for we shall have no more eggs to incubate. And without eggs it will be useless to expect chickens.

Unless science comes to our aid with a machine that can lay eggs the outlook is indeed black.

PRESS COMMENT.

Landlord Shown Cloven Hoof Yet? Chicago Tribune: The new flat, of course, is not what you expected—and you just knew it wouldn't be.

Flattened in Plattville. Sheboygan Journal: The Plattville Normal school's protest against Mr. Leverenz seems to have fallen flat.

Don't Blame Funston. Milwaukee Sentinel: Iowa, Kan. has a "Funston for President" boom. But don't blame the "little brigadier" for the antics of his fool friends.

And Engraved Invitations. El Paso Herald: Probably universal satisfaction with railway rates, will never be attained until the roads give free transportation and a chromo.

Quilt Aids Reflection. Sheboygan Journal: Gen. Briggs welcome to Fond du Lac shows there are persons even in that quiet town who remember there was once a civil war.

Uncle Joe's Little Party. Exchange: Speaker Cannon is to have a party to celebrate his 70th birthday and give the folks a chance to see how he defies Oslerian theories.

Gigantic Undertaking. La Crosse Tribune: Next Sunday a theatrical troupe will attempt to show "What Women Will Do." Now this should be worth while, if they deliver the goods.

Mostly Warmed Atmosphere. El Paso Herald: Zion City is taking out that civil war in hot air. The Chicago militia are too anxious to inject themselves into the situation for the pure sport of the thing to warrant any insurrection.

Will Have Same Old Plait. Ashland Press: It is announced that King Alfonso will give his bride six wedding frocks, but she will differ from other women if, within a month, she doesn't tell her husband she has nothing to wear.

Should Avoid Loan Business. Chicago Chronicle: E. H. Harriman has said to San Francisco: "If the United States government will not lend you $200,000,000 I will lend you $100,000,000 myself." Good! That is, another reason why the government should not go into the loan business.

Neenah Editor's Educated Tree. Neenah Times: A Frenchman in Paris: Antoine Ladue, asserts that trees can be educated so they will know their owners. "Don't doubt it a bit. The Times man has a tree in his yard which, when he approaches, is always full of its boughs."

Forgetting the Bloody Chasm. Norfolk (Va.) Landmark: Charles Francis Adams has said that the government will yet erect a statue of Robert E. Lee in Washington. A step in this direction is the government's action in sending the cruiser Columbia there. What a howl that would have raised a few years ago!

Somebody Sure to Be Hit. Pittsburg Dispatch: It seems almost impossible to present any legislation in the public interest at Washington that does not hit some special interest. Here is the wood alcohol crowd opposing the denatured alcohol bill, although as a matter of fact its passage will greatly increase the demand for wood alcohol in the denaturing process. But the facts never appear to these special interests. The beet sugar opposition to Cuban and Philippine tariff revision proved that.

He Specified That Was Trouble. Stevens Point Journal: The reason alleged for the naming of Roe Phillips at Madison was that he had said that "the men of Wisconsin were not sufficiently cultured." If he did say this he spoke the truth, but probably where he made his mistake was in singing out the men of Wisconsin. If he had said "the men of the whole world are not sufficiently cultured" there probably would have been no trouble, for no one, not even a university freshman, will have the temerity to maintain that the world has reached its highest state of civilization.

All Cities Must Suffer. Sheboygan Journal: The curious effects that the San Francisco disaster will have on the financial world are beginning to be felt. Property valued at $200,000,000 cannot be wiped out of existence without the blow being felt in every corner even of so rich a country as the United States. Even abroad, where American financial interests are large, the disaster is being felt. The demand for money to replace the destroyed property is imperative. Other uses, less urgent, for which money was needed, will have to wait. In almost every city in the United States some improvement which capitalists were planning will find trouble in getting funds. Where money was plentiful before the San Francisco disaster, it will be hard to get now. Ordinary business probably will not be affected. But new enterprises, like the building of railroads and financing of new corporations, will have to wait. It is a tribute people have to pay to the juggernaut of Fate.

Had Never Been Lynched. Success: Representative John S. Williams tells of a case tried in a southern court, where counsel for the defendant endeavored to impugn the testimony of a negro witness. The latter regarded the lawyer with a mixed expression of astonishment and resentment. Then, turning to the judge, he said: "Yo' honah, I see a pore but respectable man. Ise' always belayed mase! I ain't never been lynched an' the only mule I ever stole knocked me down an' broke one of my laigs."

More Student Frenzy. Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The students of the Stevens Point Normal will not help the case of President Pray, or win praise for the institution they attend, by hanging a member of the state board of regents in effigy. There has been a good deal of public sympathy for the deposed head of the Stevens Point Normal, but it will not be strengthened by actions of this sort. At the same time it would be unjust to hold President Pray responsible for the acts of his friends.

Auto in Lieu of Interurban. Evening Wisconsin: The proposed automobile line between Manitowish and Kewaunee, a distance of twenty miles, over which a round-trip fare of a dollar is to be charged, will be watched with interest. If the proprietors can "make a go of it," there will be other lines, and consequent demands for road improvement that will make the routes traversable at all seasons, and under all conditions of the weather.

But a Fool's Errand. La Crosse Chronicle: A good deal of thoughtless palaver has been printed during the past few weeks at feeding a proposed new effort to reach the north pole by Walter Wellman, a staff correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald. As a matter of fact there is no good reason why Mr. Wellman should be encouraged to make the hazardous voyage upon which he is about to set out. There are a great many excellent reasons why he should not undertake it.

Chief of these, of course, is the fact that the so-called "discovery" of the north pole can be of no possible advantage to humanity or to the cause of science. Students of world topography are able to infer the approximate condition of things at the exact spot we call the north pole, and definite knowledge of it is wholly unimportant. A number of explorers have crossed the polar sea over various routes and there is no call for Mr. Wellman, who is a brilliant writer and useful citizen, to risk his life in the attempt to sail in a balloon precisely over the end of the earth's axis. He is not an experienced aeronaut or an exceptionally robust person. It is a pity that he has been moved to hazard his useful existence for no better purpose than to win the same cheap sort of fame that satisfies the foodbarly steely climber, or lion tamer, or snake charmer, or glass eater, or other side-show wonders.

AMONG THE POLITICIANS

The socialists of Arkansas are to meet in convention at Argenta today to put a full state ticket in the field for the first time.

John Temple Graves, one of the best-known journalists in the south and who has recently launched a new daily newspaper in Atlanta, has withdrawn from the race for Senator Bacon's seat in the United States senate.

Lieutenant Governor John T. Herriott, following the refusal of his county to instruct for him, has withdrawn from the race for the gubernatorial nomination in Iowa. This leaves Governor Cummins and Congressman Perkins of Sioux City as the rival aspirants for the republican nomination.

The present house of representatives is composed of 252 republicans and 158 democrats, giving a republican majority of 114. In order to capture the next house, which will be the Sixtieth congress, the democrats will be compelled to lasso fifty-eight seats and not lose a single one they now hold. Such a performance would be little short of revolutionary and yet it is not without precedent in American politics.

The nomination of ex-Senator William A. Harris as the democratic candidate for governor of Kansas is regarded in Washington as especially significant in a tariff way. Since he left the senate in 1902 Mr. Harris has been prominently identified with the even stock raising association, and it is recalled to mind that the agitation for reciprocity as well as for tariff revision, is strong among the Kansas stock raisers. As soon as the legislation in which President Roosevelt is interested is out of the way there will be renewed pressure upon him for some utterance on the tariff. The revisionists believe that a word from him would do more to enlighten interest on tariff than all the speeches they could make.

Probably the most notable feature of the republican side of the situation with regard to the next presidential campaign is the continuance of the effort to keep President Roosevelt to the front as the prospective standard-bearer of his party for a second time, despite the President's standing declaration that he will not be a candidate.

Leaving out President Roosevelt the republican list of eligibles already considered for the presidential race is considerably greater than the democratic. The republican list up to date, leaving out of consideration purely favorable sons mentioned from time to time, includes Fairbanks of Indiana, Root of New York, Foraker and Taft of Ohio, La Follette of Wisconsin, Cummings and Shaw of Iowa, Knox of Pennsylvania, and Cannon of Illinois.

Tangled for the last ten years, the situation in the republican ranks in Delaware is more complex than ever since the regular republican state committee has reiterated its demand that the present legislature fill the United States senatorial vacancy before the regulars will agree to join with the union republicans in common primaries to reorganize the party.

The progress of the factional fight among Iowa republicans inclines Washington to believe that Secretary of the Treasury Shaw has been put out of the presidential race.

Ex-Senator William A. Harris, the democratic candidate for governor of Kansas, was a Confederate soldier in the civil war and was one of the engineers who built the Union Pacific railroad.

Those seriously mentioned in connection with the democratic presidential nomination to date are: William J. Bryan of Nebraska, George B. McGowan of New York, Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, Charles A. Culbertson of Mississippi, and William R. Hearst of New York.

"The Muck Rakers" said Lawson-on-Parade. "What are the bugs blowing for?" To turn us out, to turn us out," D. Graham Phillips said. "What makes you look so white, so white?" said Lawson-on-Parade.

"I'm dreading what I've got to hear," J. Lincoln Stephens said. "They're exposin' the expositors; it would make your hair turn gray. To reflect on what will come when they expose each expose. When they find a newer frenzy or a treason every day—'They're exposin' the expositors in the mornin'."

"What makes Charles Russell breathe so hard?" asked Lawson-on-Parade. "It's bitter cold. It's bitter cold," U. Jungle Sinclair said. "What makes Miss Tarbell look so faint?" said Lawson-on-Parade. "A touch of sun, a touch of sun," E. Hopkins Adams said. "They're exposin' the expositors, they are callin' of 'em down. They're blamin' of 'em hotly from New York to Packer town."

"They will chuck 'em in a lake o' ink an' let 'em swim or drown—'They're exposin' the expositors in the mornin'."

"I started all this bloomin' row," said Lawson-on-Parade. "I think Miss Tarbell saw it first," Rex Beach rose up and said. "What's all that noise that shakes the ground?" said Lawson-on-Parade. "It's Teddy Roosevelt's muck-rake speech," a pale reformer said. "They're exposin' the expositors, there is trouble in the air. There are Folks and Hadleys coming from concealment everywhere. And they'll all write stuff, and talk, too, when they've got the time to spare—'They're exposin' the expositors in the mornin'."

—W. D. Nesbit, in New York Times.

WARSHIP ON FIRST TRIP GOES AGROUND ON SPIT

Battleship Rhode Island Is Floated from Reef by United Efforts of Powerful Tugs.

Norfolk, Va., May 7.—The new battleship Rhode Island, which ran aground off York spit in Chesapeake bay Saturday morning, was floated Sunday night after two more accidents, incident to the effort to drag her from the reef, took place.

It seems certain that some one, and perhaps several persons, high in the navy, will be made to suffer for the grounding of the big warship on her maiden trip. That the Rhode Island walked blindly into a network of shoals, which are considered extremely dangerous even by mariners who know them well, puts an ugly aspect on the situation.

When the naval tugs reached the stranded warship, after a 30-mile run, from the Norfolk navy yard, they found the Rhode Island's bow high on the shoal at the eastern entrance to York river.

Early Sunday morning the cruiser Minneapolis endeavored to get a line aboard the Rhode Island's stern, with the assistance of the naval tug. In maneuvering, the Uncas was in collision with the Rhode Island, and carried away part of her rull.

Later the Mohawk went aground alongside the Rhode Island while passing a hawser aboard that vessel, but eventually got afloat.

Efforts to float the Rhode Island at high tide Sunday morning did not move the vessel. At low tide Sunday the battleship was drawing 24 feet of water aft and 18 feet forward. Water was pumped from the forward tanks aft and every piece of movable material was shifted from the forward part of the ship with the view of lightening that quarter.

In the afternoon the naval tugs steamed up, at high tide for a try at the battleship. Their efforts were successful. The Rhode Island then dropped anchor in the mouth of York river.

The extent of the injury to the ship is not known. It develops that there was no native pilot taken aboard the vessel when she entered the capes. The Virginia pilots say that one was offered, but refused. No other pilot would have undertaken to take the ship to York bay.

The battleship is supposed to have passed in the Virginia capes at 4:40 o'clock Saturday morning. It took her probably three hours to get from the capes to the point at which she ran aground and if that is true she went ashore at high water.

WRECK DUE TO CARELESSNESS

Engineer Disobeyed Orders According to Official Report of Disaster.

Altoona, Pa., May 7.—The official report of the collision Friday night between the east-bound Chicago mail train and the west-bound Chicago and St. Louis express on the Petersburg cutoff of the Pennsylvania railroad which caused the death of ten persons and the injury of many others, lays the blame on Engineer J. T. Dougherty, who was hauling the west-bound train. He was given orders to wait at the end of the double track at Carlin to permit the east-bound train to pass, but he misunderstood them and continued out on the single track. Engineer Dougherty, the report says, did not deny that he had made a mistake when before the officials for examination.

The injured at the Altoona hospital are doing well, and with the exception of a colored boy, who is still in a serious condition, all are on the road to recovery.

WOULD INTEREST YOUNG JEWS

Brith Abraham Chief Desires to Extend Usefulness of Order.

New York, May 7.—The twentieth national convention of the Independent Order Brith Abraham began here Sunday with several hundred delegates in attendance. Nominations for the various offices were made during the day and will be voted on later. Grand Master Max Stern was renominated without opposition. For first deputy grand master Max Schmidt was nominated without an opponent, the same being true of Grand Secretary Jacob Schoen and Endowment Treasurer Henry Katchelm.

Samuel Weldorf, grand master of the old order of Brith Abraham, delivered an address in which he said the two orders of Brith Abraham are working together in harmony. He advocated making the orders truly Jewish and taking up all Jewish movements wherever found. He declared that this was the only way to interest the young Jew. He concluded:

"There are a few gentlemen down in Washington who think they represent all the Jews in this country and they go to the president and tell him so. And he thinks they do and he gives them whatever they want. But no one asks your order, which represents 90,000 Jews in this country, what you think about it, because you don't ask yourselves. You haven't shown any interest."

Trade with Brazil.

Washington, May 7.—A bulletin issued by the department of commerce and labor says that the trade of the United States with Brazil aggregates in round numbers $110,000,000, a larger sum than with any other country of South America. Our imports from Brazil for the fiscal year 1905 aggregated $99,843,004, against $15,354,901 from Argentina and $11,071,612 from Chile. Exports to Brazil from the United States in 1905 were $10,885,096, against $23,564,066 to Argentina, and formed less than one-fifth of our total exports to South America. Of the imports from Brazil in 1905, $64,400,000 was coffee, $28,500,000 India rubber and $2,750,000 hides and skins.

Standard Oil Probe.

EARTH'S OWN SKY LINE.

Thrilling Scenes Above the Clouds. The Wetterhorn reigns supreme over a scene of as impressive grandeur as this world knows. Shrouded in snowy solitudes it stands out like a gigantic solitary sentinel over the tiny kingdoms of men at its feet. True, it is surrounded by a magnificent panorama of peaks second only to the mighty monarch itself. But they only enhance the majestic spirit of beauty which animates all nature in this world of lofty magnificence. It is a beauty that impresses at once by its austerity, its diversity, its originality, and its magnitude—a beauty that almost fatigues the imagination with its grandeur. The scene is so supernatural, so imposing, so sublime, that a true conception of it can be formed only by witnessing the superbly animated scenes of it a Lyman H. Howe's new Liferama in the Myers Grand on Tuesday. After beholding these scenes, the spectator for the first time realizes the strange fascination such grandeur exercises over the minds of men and the peculiar attractions it offers to these adventurous climbers. From the summit is a scene of such vastness and magical beauty that words fail in the describing a sensation that can only be experienced from seeing Mr. Howe's splendid reproduction. It is no vague and lifeless scene, but exact in outline and unrivalled in brightness. The spectator is on the apex of a gigantic edifice set in a vast amphitheatre on the roof of the world, experiencing a sensation that can only be experienced from seeing Mr. Howe's splendid reproduction.
